It is not the right stage to comment on the full effect of Noni on myself as I am using it for only a month, along with the destructive Chemotherapy and Radiotherapy. So I feel that the strength and blood counts betterment which I am getting now, shall be much more enhanced once my Radiotherapy & Chemotherapy is over.

I strongly feel that it enhances the inner strength and works on reconstruction of cells. It is a must for every patient for more effects and healing factors. I will provide my C.T. scan and other tests reports later once my Radiotherapy and Chemotherapy is over.

After taking Noni I feel more confident. Noni is a boon for every cancer patient as it maintains strength and blood haemoglobin and platelet count. Thus no need for any blood transplant during Ca+ treatment.

I am a wellknown Kannada writer.

I have been suffering from chronic diseases like Hypertension and diabetes for a long time. I became a victim of hypertension when I was just 32 years old. Since then I was under medical supervision.

Since 8 years I am suffering from diabetes and I am under allopathic medication. My blood sugar, even under regular medication and strict diet, did not attain normal levels. My fasting blood sugar (FBS) never came less than 160 mg% and my Postprandial blood sugar (PPBS) not less than 250 mg%.

In the meanwhile, about 8 months ago I was diagnosed of having cancer. I was ultimately informed, after thorough investigations, that I was suffering from lymphoma, a type of cancer, which affects lymph nodes and lymphatic system.

After diagnosing the type of cancer, my doctor started with chemotherapy, i.e. anti-cancer drugs. A type of steroid was also one of many anticancer drugs I received. This particular drug drastically increases the blood sugar level. So my family doctor doubled the dosage of anti-diabetic drug (hypoglycemic drug).

But it did not have much effect and my blood sugar was still high.

Then fortunately, I was told about a plant called Noni by my colleague.

He insisted me to try this food supplement, which according to him was a God's gift.

Reluctantly I decided to try this out. My colleague got me a bottle of Noni, for me and I started taking it according to the dosages given.

Surprisingly, after one month of using Noni, my blood sugar came down to normal levels like never before. My FBS came down to 104mg% and PPBS came down to 150 mg%.

My blood pressure is also under control. My family members and myself were very happy to see the results.

One more pleasant thing about Noni is that, you don't feel like you are taking a fruit syrup.

You can take Noni with any drink like tea, milk, fruit juice or plain cold water. You can enjoy sipping Noni, which relaxes you and cleans your body of all the toxic substances.

This might have also helped in my cancer because, my cancer responded very well to the chemotherapy given and I am showing very good results.

So I highly recommend anyone to have Noni as their regular drink, not as a medicine in the strict sense, but as a health drink which revitalizes the body.
